October Newsletter

Winter is Here

As the first snow made its appearance we were forced to get the winter gear out earlier than expected.

What does your student need to play outside during recess? Toque, gloves, winter jacket, snow pants, winter boots.

We will be outside up until the weather reaches FEELS LIKE, OR IS -29.

Thank you:

Thank you, to every single person that supported our book fair! We reached total sales of $3500.55 and $1291.20 will go to our school to buy new books.

Welcome SRC members

Meet the friendly faces from the Student Representative Council @ Davison school. These students have been picked by their peers to help with certain tasks in and around the school. Thank you Ms. Senyk & Mrs. Kirschman for your guidance in forming our leaders.

Education Week

It was a week full of fun and educating our students on exactly how important an education is to form their futures. Thank you to the parents and families that could slip away to read a book with your student before school/work started during Flashlight Thursday.

Grade 6 – Take Me Outside

Students created Andy Goldsworthy inspired nature art with found and foraged materials. Despite the wind, we were able to create some pretty interesting nature art. We even did some Fall seed sowing for a pollinator garden in the flower beds at the front of the school. If our seeds are successful, we should see a beautiful patch of Rudbeckia (Black Eyed Susan) next season!

Craft & Cooking Club

The craft and cooking club had their first activity and it looked like they had a blast!

Grade 4 Harvest Showdown

Field Trip

Our Grade 4 classroom had the opportunity to take part in the Harvest Showdown in Yorkton this year on November 1st. They took part in 9 stations of Agriculture Education based school tours. We had the opportunity to tour and interact with a variety of agricultural exhibits including beef, dairy, pork, canola crushing, power safety, bees, turkeys and a working grain elevator. The classes favorite parts were the privilege of watching and meeting Trick Riders and petting James, a 17 hands high Clydesdale! Thank you to our parent chaperones – Whitney Crook, Jeniffer Stein and Melissa Lummerding
